NOTE: The front of the building has glass doors with blue trim, but the other side has the blue bay doors.

You can also make the first right on Hiatus and follow the road around (it becomes NW 108th Ave – then make first right onto NW 52nd St (sign was missing today) and location is on the right side – this may be a busier route which is why they give the other, so let me know which is best and we'll stay with that one
